

Deltares Terms of Employment

Deltares' strives towards balance between the employees' interests and those of the Institute. A Deltares employee is rewarded and appreciated through an integral package consisting of working at the highest level as well as excellent employment conditions. Deltares has a horizontal organizational structure along with a pleasant and informal working environment.

Deltares also offers you:

- Participation in innovative projects or business programmes
- Employment terms in accordance with market trends
- Great educational possibilities. Well-trained employees are of paramount importance to a leading research institute. Enhancing substantive knowledge and personal competences are focal points of the individual development plan
- Ample space for curriculum building
- Career guidance respecting the employee's stage of life
- Possibilities to combine work and care leave
- Great working conditions